‘TAKE A KNIFE, SAVE A LIFE’

Dad confiscates knives at teenager’s party

By Adrian Colley
newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

A HARINGEY man has caused a stir on social media after confiscating knives from teenagers at his niece’s party.

Faron Paul, 31, filmed an anti-knife video which he put on Facebook shortly after taking the blades away from youngsters at the do.

And in less than a day-and-a-half his powerful message has clocked up more than 1.4 million views on Facebook.

Mr Paul’s 14-year-old daughter was also at the birthday party, in Broad Lane, Tottenham, when his brother called, asking him to attend.

On the video, Mr Paul says: “My brother calls me and says there are a few guys outside giving him problems. But I’m thinking, ‘They’re all 16-year-olds, it’s got to be all gravy.’”

As a well-known figure in the community, Mr Paul was able to talk to the youngsters and persuade them to part with their weapons.

In the Facebook film, after holding up two knives, he says: “If you think that’s shocking, watch this one. This is what someone has come to the party with,” before showing the huge hunting knife featured in the picture right.

Speaking to the Advertiser this week, Mr Paul said he was very concerned about knife crime and its consequences.

He said: “I have physically experienced knives change my life and I still suffer with the consequences. I’ve been stabbed 18 times and I used to run for England, but had to stop.

“At the party a lot of them knew me through growing up and stuff and I was able to treat them with respect and persuade them so they gave me the knives.”

He took three knives off boys aged between 14 and 16.

Mr Paul’s message was that it’s not worth carrying the weapons and that a random impulse can change the course of someone’s life in an instant. “It’s a subject that’s very close to my heart,” he added.

Mr Paul’s Facebook message later in the day read: “Take a knife and save a life.”

Jail for thug after anti-Semitic attack

A TEENAGE thug who yelled anti-Semitic abuse at Orthodox Jews at Tottenham Hale Retail Park and hurled empty silver gas canisters at them from a car was jailed for six months on Friday.

Patrick Joseph Delaney, pictured, targeted Orthodox Jews in their distinctive attire in a tirade of hate which included references to Adolf Hitler.

Four victims were subjected to the vile and unprovoked attacks in the car park of the retail complex at about 7.30pm on January 6 last year, Wood Green Crown Court heard.

One of the victims noted the vehicle’s registration and reported it to police.

Delaney, of Braintree, Essex, and two others were later arrested and subsequently charged with a religiously aggravated public order offence.

Delaney pleaded guilty and received the prison sentence while the charges against the co-defendants were dropped.

Spurs Foundation marks 10th birthday

TOTTENHAM Hotspur Football Club has released a new film celebrating its charity work and the difference it has made to people in north London.

The two-and-a-half-minute film, made by the Tottenham Hotspur Foundation, focuses on 10 projects and the compelling stories of 10 people it has helped.

Club chairman Daniel Levy said: “Ten years ago we set out on a vision of truly making a difference for people living within our local community.

“We knew we had a platform and a responsibility to address some of these key social issues.”

Companies fight for £1bn contract

THREE companies are fighting to win a £1billion deal to transform Tottenham.

Haringey Council says it has narrowed its shortlist from six to three bidders as it looks for a long-term partner for the major High Road West development.

The shortlisted companies are Barratt Developments Plc, Lendlease Development Limited and Linkcity (Bouygues). The winner will be announced by the middle of this year.

Located just 15 minutes from central London and next to the new £900million Spurs stadium development, the 11-hectare scheme will provide 1,400 new homes, community facilities including a new library and a public square and park.

It will also create a new local centre with shops, restaurants, cafes and commercial and business space.

The scheme will be carried out alongside the Northumberland Park Estate regeneration scheme, under the auspices of the Haringey Development Vehicle.

The council says the two projects, along with the Spurs stadium development, will mean billions of pounds in public and private investment in north Tottenham, transforming the area with 5,000 new homes and 4,000 jobs.

Alan Strickland, the council’s cabinet member for housing, regeneration and planning said: “Tottenham is a major regeneration priority for the borough and this ambitious scheme has developed following three years of consultation with the local community.

“We look forward to making a final decision on our partner in the coming months.”

The council says the importance of the High Road West scheme has been recognised by the mayor of London, who has contributed £62m.

The local authority says the project comes hot on the heels of the redevelopment of Tottenham Hale, providing 800 homes, and the Ada National College for Digital Skills, which opened in Tottenham Hale in September last year and will move to a new campus in 2018.

The college aims to equip young people with the latest hi-tech skills and qualifications so they can compete in the digital economy.

Arson probe after blaze at primary school

Pupils move to academy for lessons

By Clare Casey
newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

PUPILS whose classrooms were wrecked after a firebug torched them at the weekend have relocated to another school as part of emergency arrangements.

Year 5 and 6 youngsters at Churchfield Primary School, in Latymer Road, Edmonton, move to Heron Hall Academy, in Nightingale Road, from today (Wednesday) following the arson attack early on Sunday morning which destroyed seven classrooms and the plant room.

Every effort is being made to minimise the disruption and upheaval to pupils studying for SATS tests.

The school was closed on Monday, but reopened yesterday (Tuesday) for nursery, reception and Year 1-4 children thanks to the "Herculean efforts of school staff," said headteacher Matthew Kleiner-Mann,

He described it as a mindless attack and apologised to parents and children affected by what he called "this terrible event".

"I share their horror and outrage that a primary school should be targeted in such a destructive way," he said.

"We are cooperating fully with the police in order to identify and prosecute the individuals responsible and I would urge anyone who has any information about this incident to contact the police so that we can catch the people responsible."

The blaze broke out soon after 5am.

Acting Detective Inspector Adam Rowland, of Enfield Police, who is the senior investigating officer, said: "Thankfully, no one was hurt during this incident and the school was empty at the time.

"If this had happened during the week and the school was occupied, there is no doubt that there would have been some serious injuries.

"If you were in the vicinity of Latymer Road during the early hours of Sunday morning and saw anyone or anything you believe may have been suspicious, I urge you to come forward.

"Whoever was responsible for this is still at large and must be caught."

A spokesman for the London Fire Brigade confirmed that 18 firefighters and officers were called to the blaze in three fire engines.

He said: "The fire damaged part of the ground floor and the building's external first-floor timber cladding.

"The brigade were called at 5.13am and the fire was under control by 8.05am. Crews from Edmonton and Enfield fire stations attended the incident."

Anyone with any information that can help police are asked to contact Enfield CID via 101, or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111 or via crimestoppers-uk.org

Little shaver: A youngster admires Flapjack the bearded dragon lizard

Enter the dragon lizard

MEET Flapjack the bearded dragon lizard at Lee Valley Park Farms' 40th birthday celebrations this weekend.

A host of activities has been lined up including a 1970s-themed disco with other guests including resident rabbits Gizmo, Lucky and Honey as well as Beatrice the goat and donkey siblings Lucy and Lupin.

Activity-packed games will include a farmyard trail, a ride on Tex the tractor to a working dairy farm and a fun-fact session to learn about the variety of animals at the farm, in Stubbins Hall Lane, Waltham Abbey.

The party runs from 10am to 5pm on Saturday and Sunday.

Playing it by the book

IT'S ready, steady, read for five schools who have set themselves the ambitious target of reading aloud for 30,000 hours over the next six months.

The handful of schools that form Cuckoo Hall Academies Trust (CHAT) have signed up for the Read Aloud 2017 initiative to encourage children and their parents to read out loud for at least 15 minutes each day and help foster a lifelong love of books.

The challenge was launched by Enfield Council's cabinet member for education Ayfer Orhan and chief education officer Jenny Tosh at Woodpecker Hall Primary Academy, in Nightingale Road, Edmonton, on Monday.

The children will record the minutes they read each night in a "30,000 challenge" diary.

The schools will compete against each other in what is believed to be one of the biggest reading challenges ever set.

Ms Orhan said: "This is a brilliant initiative. Reading is so important. I wish everyone good luck in reaching the target of 30,000 hours."

Headteacher of Woodpecker Hall David Penkert said: "Reading aloud helps to build motivation, curiosity and memory."

Children and parents from each of the schools – four primaries and a secondary – were called up on to the stage to read together to an invited audience numbering 500. The books included The Twits, by Roald Dahl, Oliver Twist, by Charles Dickens, Alexander the Great, by John Bingham, and A Bear Called Paddington, by Michael Bond.

The other schools taking part are Kingfisher Hall Primary Academy, in Ponders End, Enfield Heights Academy, in Enfield Highway, Cuckoo Hall Academy, in Edmonton, and Heron Hall Academy, in Edmonton.

Word to the wise: Ayfer Orhan reading with nine-year-old Devonti, a pupil at Woodpecker Hall Primary Academy

And the winner is...: Lucy Cox Dodgson collects her prize from Jenny Tosh, Enfield Council's chief education officer, flanked by Emmet Carry Fennessy, who took second place, and Khalid Omar, who was third

The talk of the town

A TEENAGER has scooped a top award for her speaking skills.

Lucy Cox Dodgson, from Winchmore School, won the regional final of the Jack Petchey Speak Out challenge, held at St Ignatius College in Turkey Street, Enfield.

Lucy, 14, impressed the judges with her winning speech "Boxes", fighting off stiff competition from 18 other speakers from schools in the Enfield area.

"It was exhilarating," she said. "I've never done anything like it. It was all worth it!"

Lucy won a £100 gift certificate for coming first and a chance to go through to the grand final which is due to take place in London in July.

Jenny Tosh, chief education officer at Enfield Council, presented the awards and said: "It was a wonderful event with amazing speakers. The standard goes up every time."

Eight hundred students aged 14 and 15 took part in the competition, which is run by the Jack Petchey Foundation to help young people aged 11 to 25.

Second place went to Emmet Carry Fennessy, 14, from St Ignatius College, with his speech "This is (Not) a Speech!" and third place went to Khalid Omar, 15, from Latymer School, in Haselbury Road, Edmonton, with a speech entitled "Write Your Own Headline".

The challenge, now in its 11th year, sees students compete for nearly £6,000 worth of prizes in the final.

Variety is the spice of life

Plenty to choose from: The show features a wide range of acts, from singers to contortionists, from fire eaters to magicians

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

THE fantasy world of burlesque – fan dancers, feather boas, twirling tassels, garters and glamour galore – is unzipped in a show featuring the vintage art of striptease in Enfield on Friday evening.

But before your maiden aunt blushes, or the vicar almost chokes having afternoon tea, An Evening of Burlesque at Millfield Theatre, in Silver Street, Edmonton, is "more tease than sleaze", say organisers.

Top burlesque performers from across the globe appear in the touring show which also features cabaret and novelty acts and has wowed audiences in ethe West End and around the UK, as well as overseas.

Although scantily clad performers with stage names such as Amber Topaz (the Yorkshire tease), Coueurrde Plume (fan dancer) and Storm Hooper (hula hooper) suggestively divest themselves of their garments, there is no full frontal nudity, with artistic choreography and stunning costumes capturing the grace, elegance, classic beauty and exotic themes of burlesque.

But doesn't it objectify women? Not according to Sarah Lou, who performs both as Miss Ooh La Lou and is a member of the Folly Mixtures quartet, whose routines range from classic Moulin Rouge to a vintage 1940s' American boogie woogie bugle boy-style routine

"There is a misconception that burlesque is risque and racy, but it is more about saucy, titillating fun," says Sarah, 33, who has appeared in West End musicals and lives in Hendon

"As a woman it is incredibly liberating and empowering to stand on stage feeling sexy and confident about yourself. "It's about teasing the audience. I call it 'wiggle with a giggle' and that's what it is – vivacious fun, tastefully done.

"Almost 80 per cent of our audience are female, either women on a night out or hen parties, and the feedback we get is tremendous."

Besides the dazzling dancers, the variety bill also features comedian Lee Christian, who appeared on TV's Britain's Got Talent, plus novelty act Bruce Airhead, who does amazing and amusing things with a giant green rubber balloon!

The show is strictly over-18s only.

Schools get glowing report

TWO primary schools have been identified as centres of excellence in a parliamentary review.

Eversley, in Winchmore Hill, and Worcesters were highlighted in the 2015-16 review, which highlights the effects of government policies.

Both schools were described as "outstanding" – and the accolade has been welcomed by Enfield Council.

Seven years ago some aspects of Worcesters were described as "inadequate" and Ofsted issued it with a "notice to improve".

Leadership and management were judged to be inadequate and a number of families were removing their children from the school, in Goat Lane, Enfield.

Three years later, it won an outstanding rating and, after numbers had slumped, it now has 600 pupils.

The review said: "Worcesters is now a popular and over-subscribed school which has seen results consistently rise above the national average over the past four years."

Headteacher Karen Jaeggi said: "We are all very proud of our school and know that Worcesters is a success as a result of our fantastic staff, wonderful children and supportive parents and local community."

She said in the review: "Inspired by the Olympics, we launched our new school motto, 'Be the best you can be', which promotes self-responsibility, self-awareness and resilience.

"This was key to driving everything we did to a high standard. Our whole school ethos revolves around this and filters across everything we do."

Eversley, in Chaseville Park Road, was commended for its work as a teaching and national support school. It has 630 pupils.

Headteacher Pat Wood said in the review: "The school has been graded as consistently outstanding in all areas by Ofsted since 2006, our latest inspection being January 2015.

"Achieving that outstanding grading, maintaining it and leading the school through many changes and challenges has been and continues to be very exciting and rewarding

"However, sustaining an outstanding record also demands constant hard work and a strong drive for continuous improvement."

She added: "We are always delighted when visitors comment on the warm, friendly atmosphere that permeates throughout the school and the happiness of the children they encounter."

The council says that 97 per cent of primary schools in the borough have now been rated as "good" or "outstanding" by Ofsted.

Speeding drivers trapped

By Adrian Colley
newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

A TON-UP driver who roared through Enfield was clocked speeding at 106mph.

The motorist was caught in a clampdown by Enfield Police, who netted 25 speeding drivers after officers staked out a stretch of the A10 in the north of the borough.

The crackdown was welcomed by social media users, who learned about the covert operation and the speeds drivers were travelling in a built-up area after details were posted by police on their Facebook page.

Police and Enfield Council officers are aware that drivers speeding through the borough cause concern to residents and contribute to accidents and injuries.

The operations on Friday, January 20, by officers from Southbury ward were concentrated on the A10/Great Cambridge Road after speed cameras were removed last year.

Police say they processed 25 drivers for speeding and one was found to be driving at 106mph.

Facebook posters on the Enfield Police page welcomed the action.

John Salmon said: "Thank you. Local residents have been complaining about this for at least five years. It's good to know something is finally being done. There are many local residents on the BHP/Edmonton StreetLife forum who will be pleased to hear this." Jane Telfer said: "Thank you! This resident is very grateful. The noise from speeding and anti-social driving behaviour keeps me awake night after night" – and Cara Bolton posted: "This is great news. I hope more speed checks are done after 10pm when the real speedsters get the run of the road."

Borough police commander Detective Chief Superintendent Iain Raphael says he is consulting Transport for London to get the speed cameras which were removed last year put back in place.

Enfield Police said: "We will continue these covert checks to keep our residents safe and prevent accidents by speeding motorists."

'Invest in schools,' MP urges minister

By Clare Casey
newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

"EDUCATION standards in Enfield could be threatened" unless the government invests in the borough's schools, according to Joan Ryan.

The MP for Enfield North is calling on Chancellor of the Exchequer Philip Hammond, to deliver extra resources to schools in Enfield ahead of the budget statement to parliament on March 8.

Her call follows last week's revelation that £384million, earmarked for schools in England under academy conversion plans, had been taken back by the Treasury.

The National Audit Office has also warned that schools face £3billion in spending cuts by 2020.

Ms Ryan said: "Analysis of the government's education funding figures by London Councils has shown that schools in the borough of Enfield will need to make a further £13.5m in savings by 2018/19.

"I know from having spoken to headteachers, staff, governors and parents in my constituency that schools are facing substantial funding pressures. They are doing a great job in very difficult circumstances, but cutting their budgets to the bone is unsustainable.

"Schools are already reporting increased class sizes, teacher and school staff vacancies being left unfilled and having to set budget deficits.

"Without additional resources this already desperate funding situation in schools will only get worse and education standards could be threatened.

"I'm calling on the government to invest in education and protect funding for children and young people in Enfield."

Warning: Enfield North MP Joan Ryan

Ministers are planning to introduce a new National Funding Formula for schools, which would result in 70 per cent of London schools receiving less money from 2018/19.

These cutbacks come on top of the funding shortfall identified by the National Audit Office report on the financial sustainability of schools, published in December last year.

The Department for Education has argued that the new formula will provide a much fairer basis for allocating funds to schools and will give head teachers more certainty over future budgets and long-term planning.

Getting your recycling right!

Sometimes recycling collected by the Council has to be refused at the sorting plant due to the wrong items being put in the blue lidded recycling bins. Every year nearly a thousand tonnes of recycling is so dirty that it has to be thrown away.

The usual suspects, look out!

We do not accept ANY of the items shown here in your blue lidded recycling bin.

If in doubt, leave it out!

- Bins found to have incorrect items will not be emptied and will be issued with a sticker giving a reason why.
- Householders that repeatedly put incorrect items in their recycling bins may result in a Fixed Penalty Notice or their bin being removed.

To arrange a free doorstep collection please contact TRAID:
call 020 8733 2595
email at recycling@traid.org.uk

To arrange a free doorstep collection please contact 123 Recycle for Free:
call 020 7993 6554
online www.123recycleforfree.com

It is often only a few households that put incorrect items in, which then ruins the efforts of all the other households who have separated their waste correctly.

We hope all residents will understand that it benefits us all to get our recycling right.

Cutting it out: Some of the weapons seized during the operations

Police nab knife haul

POLICE in Enfield claim that two recent operations have been a success.

A weapons sweep netted a crop of knives, which have been confiscated, and a clampdown on anti-social behaviour cut call-outs, saving police time.

A week of efforts targeting knife crime, saw officers arrest "known, habitual knife carriers".

A knife-drop bin at Edmonton Police Station front office, open 24 hours a day, resulted in several weapons being left in a week and a search of a park in Ponders End, with the help of cadets, uncovered a knife.

In a separate operation, after a survey of 1,200 Enfield residents in 20 wards, police say they acted over fears of anti-social behaviour in Highlands.

More patrols and a camera made a huge impact on anti-social behaviour in the Lonsdale Drive area, resulting in 100 fewer calls from residents.

Police said it was "a great result for our residents, who are seeing less anti-social behaviour, and also for us as we can focus on other areas which are having the same issues.

"This has been achieved by our local officers increasing visible police patrols in the area, conducting stop and searches and being involved in the installation of a dome camera which has helped to ward off the unwanted anti-social behaviour."

MP rages at plans to axe Jobcentres

By Adrian Colley

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

EDMONTON's two Jobcentres are to shut – sparking an angry blast from MP Kate Osamor.

She is demanding a meeting with government ministers over the plans to close the centres in Fore Street and Upper Fore Street.

It is proposed that the services they provide will move to Palmers Green Jobcentre and Enfield Jobcentre before March next year.

Closures of 78 such centres across the UK will save the government £180million a year and consultation on the changes will only occur where they are being moved more than three miles or a 20-minute walk away.

Ms Osamor said: "I am appalled by the decision to close Edmonton's Jobcentres.

"There has been a total lack of consultation on this decision.

"The services provided are an important resource for many of my constituents. Figures from October 2016 show there were 2,155 claimants in Edmonton, 1,666 of whom claim only jobseeker's allowance.

"Closing Jobcentres will only mean that people have to travel further to access the services they need and in particular it leaves behind those who do not have access to online services.

"This government talks about wanting to help people get into work, but this reckless move is sending the opposite message.

"I have written to the Secretary of State for Work and Pensions Damien Green to express my opposition to the closures and my concerns about the lack of public consultation.

"I have requested an urgent meeting with him to discuss this further."

Employment minister Damian Hinds said last week: "The way the world works has changed rapidly in the last 20 years and the welfare state needs to keep pace.

"As more people access their benefits through the internet many of our buildings are underused. We are concentrating our resources on what we know best helps people into work.

"We will always make sure that people have the support they need to get into and progress within work. That's why we are recruiting 2,500 more work coaches to help those who need it most."

Doug Taylor

Enfield Council leader

WE will soon, as a council, be setting the annual budget. This requires us to balance income and expenditure for the year, increasing costs due to pressures on social services, child protection and homelessness at the same time as massive cuts in government funding for Enfield.

Surrey Council as a response to its financial crisis, and as true blue a Tory council as you can get, is to raise its council tax by 15 per cent.

Council leaders of all political persuasions have been calling for urgent help to tackle the social care black hole.

As a country we are now paying only lip service to protecting those most in need and unless the government wakes up to its responsibilities then many people will have a lower quality of life than they could have.

The blame for the deteriorating state of our caring services and the crisis in emergency services in the NHS is with the government.

We need a bigger contribution of national wealth to ensure our children are kept safe, our older residents get good care, our environment is protected, our emergency services are in good order and we all get healthcare when we need it.

A measure of a civilised society is how we safeguard the most vulnerable and create opportunities for anyone with a disadvantage. The government cuts mean that as a council we cannot meet our own aspirations to do that.

The heart has gone from national government and the local sticking plaster up and down the country is peeling away.

Locally, we will increase council tax because not to do so will damage the lives of so many and reduce the quality of life of us all.

But it is a depressing time in local government.

Imbalance robs us of valuable women of science

I WOULD like to draw your readers' attention to an important date: February 11, the International Day of Women and Girls in Science.

That we should need such a day, even now, in 2017, is staggering. It was introduced by the United Nations to encourage young women to enter careers in science and technological disciplines as the imbalance between the sexes in these fields remained stark.

To my mind, this imbalance robs us of the full contribution that women in science can make to the world.

While the past 15 years have seen increased efforts to inspire and engage women and girls in science, it's the case that in some parts of the world, the percentage of female students achieving a degree in science-related fields continues to be much lower compared to that of male students.

We can no longer allow this inequality to go unchallenged. Young women and girls need to be encouraged to explore and engage with science, and nations around the world need to be more proactive in fostering this interest.

Women around Britain – from palaeontologist Mary Anning and Britain's first female physician and surgeon Elizabeth Garrett Anderson, to chemist Rosalind Franklin and biologist Anne McLaren – have made great contributions to the body of scientific knowledge. We all have a responsibility to make sure young women and girls across London, Britain and beyond have the opportunity to follow in their footsteps.

Recognising a problem is always the first step toward addressing it and the UN resolution founding the International Day of Women and Girls in Science is an excellent development.

But it's an issue that starts at home. And here's something for us all to ponder as parents, carers, teachers and employers: what role can we play?

I will not apologise for putting residents first

BILL LINTON Linton (Advertiser, February 1) accuses me of being parochial for opposing any proposal by the Mayor of London for a Ultra Low Emission Zone (ULEZ) that does not extend to the M25 boundary – a position I stated at the Clean Air Meeting he refers to, also attended by my colleague and fellow councillor Alan Sitkin and officers from the environment department.

I am sorry to disappoint Mr Linton, but I make no apologies for standing up for the health and well-being of Enfield residents, particularly those who live in close proximity to the A406 and A10 whose lives are blighted on a daily basis by poor air quality.

Indeed, in Enfield alone some 17 per cent of deaths are related to air pollution of which transport emissions are a significant contributory factor.

The mayor's draft proposal, which is for a ULEZ inside but not including the A406 would create a two-tier approach and suggest, rightly or wrongly, that the health of those living in inner London matters more than the health of those living in outer London – and the evidence speaks for itself.

The benefits of an inner London ULEZ for Enfield is extremely small. The overall predicted reduction in nitrogen dioxide emissions is predicted to be no more than four per cent.

By contrast, a London-wide ULEZ would see that figure rise to as much as 30 per cent. I therefore believe that all Londoners should have an equal chance of benefiting as much as practically possible from an ULEZ and will continue to lobby the Mayor of London to that effect.

These policies are driving us out

YOUR article ("Parties trade blows over estate agent payments", Advertiser, February 1) failed to mention people like me, "the renter". Why do I rent? Because affordable housing is non-existent.

My rent, for what is an average three-bed semi in Enfield Town, will rise to more than £1,700 this year, which is no longer sustainable.

The solution is simply for me to move out of the borough. I am looking at properties in Nottingham as the house I am currently in is worth £550,000, which the equivalent house there is £250,000.

This tactic used by the council is also pushing the rentals up as people will not have the choice of properties to buy. Why is the information commercially sensitive? We the taxpayers are funding this piece of work without auditable scrutiny.

The council will no doubt be able to justify this action, but something has to be done in terms of the way Enfield is going. I hope you will feature more property-related stories in the future.

What future do my kids have in Enfield, or London as a whole? No chance of getting on the property ladder, whatsoever.

Don't overlook broken promise

WHAT planet is Terry Neville ("It was Labour who saddled NHS with debt, Advertiser, February 1) on?

GP surgeries are struggling to meet their patients' needs. Hospitals up and down the country are in deficit. A&Es are closing or massively overcrowded. Waiting times and waiting lists are growing. Care homes are closing. There are Nowhere near enough mental health beds. Vital drug therapies being withdrawn from NHS patients. How can he defend the government's handling of the NHS?

It is a fact that a Conservative prime minister closed Chase Farm Hospital's A&E, having promised to keep it open if elected. We should never forget that, especially as North Middlesex Hospital is now constantly facing difficulties of not enough doctors, not enough nurses and not enough beds.

Mr Neville needs to wake up and come back down to earth.

Rick Jewell
Hoe Lane,
Enfield

You used PFI too, Mr Neville

I READ with astonishment Terry Neville's letter. He states that the PFI (Private Finance Initiative) was a bad thing although it built new hospitals across the country.

He conveniently forgets that he used the same PFI scheme, when he was cabinet member for environment, to put in new street lighting, giving Enfield Council, in his words, "a huge debt".

Given that and the government cutbacks, it means that some local services will be cut.

The PFI money he criticises was part of a scheme to place local clinics in the communities, so Enfield residents would find it easier to access NHS services. This was cut back by the Conservative Cameron coalition.

So, I think a lecture from Mr Neville on NHS funding will be considered by Enfield residents and condemned to the dustbin where it belongs.

Medal man: Bob Wilson, with government defence minister Lord Howe, and, left, in his service uniform

Former Marine Bob honoured by France ...73 years after D-Day

By Adrian Colley
newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

HE might be 93 and frail, but nothing was going to stop D-Day veteran Bob Wilson collecting a war medal.

The former BT engineer picked up the award from the French government for his heroism ferrying soldiers to the beaches of Normandy during World War II.

The French ambassador to the UK Sylvie Bermann presented Bob with the Legion d'Honneur.

The medal is France's highest distinction and were handed over at the ambassador's London residence in the presence of Lord Howe, the minister of state for defence.

For former Royal Marine Bob, of Carnarvon Avenue, Enfield, the honour for his efforts in June 1944 brought back vivid memories.

He said: "It was bloody cold! I was a stoker in a boat that was ferrying Canadians to the beaches, so I was below deck.

"I remember our coxswain had his thumb chopped off and eventually the landing craft was sunk. I was picked up from the water and got taken to another ship and then back to Blighty."

Father-of-two Bob was still a teenager at the time and went on to serve in Malaya and Singapore before being discharged from the forces at the age of 21.

Forty Hall needs your help for rooms with a new view

By Adrian Colley

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

A HISTORIC house is sprucing up its displays and wants your help to transform exhibitions.

Forty Hall, in Forty Hill, Enfield, is revamping six rooms to give a stronger flavour of what life was like in the past.

So, for example, one room will depict what a worker in 1650 – shortly after the hall was built – might have experienced while another will portray an early 19th-century version of life on site.

But it needs props, not necessarily original, and items that can evoke the eras it is depicting.

Forty Hall manager Hatice Abdullah said: "We have identified people who lived in the hall over the years and we are telling their stories and showing the kind of lives that they had.

"For example, Evelyn, a 15-year-old scullery maid in the 1890s – we want to tell the story of her life. Another would be Vickery, a servant from 1646, who would have lived with the original owner Sir Nicholas Raynton.

"We would like things like period costumes and other props, an old Bible, for instance. We want to start putting things in in April and we will be upgrading the exhibitions as people donate things."

Grandfather clocks, tea sets, paintings and candlesticks are among other items being sought – and a fuller list of contributions wanted is on Forty Hall's website.

The items will be kept for two years and then returned.

Staff at Forty Hall can be contacted by emailing hatice.abdullah@enfield.gov.uk

ENFIELD Council

‘You should never put up with abuse’

Campaign aims to get message across to girls and young women

Don’t put up with it: Enfield Council cabinet member Krystle Fonyonga emphasises the aims of the campaign during a visit to St Anne’s Catholic High School for Girls, in Palmers Green

By Adrian Colley
newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

GIRLS and young women are being urged to stand up to sexual exploitation as part of a Valentine’s Day campaign.

The project aims to help girls recognise the signs of abuse and to stand up to partners trying to exploit them.

The campaign, called He Doesn’t Love You If, was launched by Enfield Council last week at St Anne’s Catholic High School for Girls, in Oakthorpe Road, Palmers Green

Campaigners say that abuse can include requests including sharing intimate photos on social media or being coerced into performing sexual acts with a partner’s friends and associates.

As it can sometimes be difficult for teenagers to judge a partner’s behaviour as abusive, the posters’ messages provide clear examples.

Krystle Fonyonga, the council’s cabinet member for community safety and public health, said: “More young women need to recognise when they are suffering from abuse from their partners – both physical and psychological – and we want them to feel confident enough to take action against these crimes.

“Friends, family and schools also have their part to play to help victims get the support they need to escape from abusive relationships.”

St Anne’s headteacher Siobhan Gilling said: “Some behaviour is simply unacceptable in a relationship and I believe we all have a part to play in helping girls recognise when a line has been crossed.

“We fully support the council’s campaign and we are proud of our students at St Anne’s who are engaging with the key message – ‘you’re worth more’.”

Student Otiasha King, 17, from Enfield, said: “Girls need the confidence to come forward and to speak up. They have the power to stand up, while the community can help and support them.”

Vision of the future: This image shows how the refurbished library will look

Library lined up for £4.2m refit

By Adrian Colley
newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

ENFIELD'S busiest library is being done up in a £4.2million refurbishment, aiming to provide an improved service.

And how Edmonton Green Library will look can be seen in a series of computer images on Enfield Council's website.

The first images of the facelift show a two-storey library and digital access centre with extra computers, free WiFi and increased study space.

There will also be resources for students and children and a dedicated local history and museum space celebrating the area's rich history.

The computer generated images depict the colourful, user-friendly children's area and the modern first floor of the library.

Ayfer Orhan, the council's cabinet member for education, pictured above, said: "Edmonton Green library is a much-loved facility and we are very excited by the investment in its future.

"These visual images help bring to life our vision for this important hub, which will benefit all manner of community groups, students and locals.

"We are very proud of Enfield's library facilities. Many London councils have been unable to maintain their library services, but in Enfield we have 17 fantastic facilities.

"This latest push for Edmonton Green will offer an unrivalled service."

To facilitate the work, the library – which has more than 400,000 visits a year – will be shut until the summer.

During the closure, members of the public will still be able to get access to computers at Green Towers and Internet@31, in Edmonton Green shopping centre.

The closest alternative library is Winchmore Hill, in Green Lanes.

What's on and what's coming

Ready to rumble...

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

THE ringside thrills which once whipped excitable grannies into a frenzy and had 12 million TV viewers transfixed will be recreated when professional wrestling returns to Potters Bar's Wyllyotts Theatre next week.

Staged during half-term week, the grappling spectacular next Wednesday evening (February 15) at the Darkes Lane venue will give younger fans, reared on the brash American superstars of WWE, a chance to see some top-name, home-grown stars.

For older grapple fans it will revive nostalgic memories of televised wrestling on Saturday afternoons in the 1960s and 1970s' heyday of Big Daddy, Giant Haystacks, Kendo Nagazaki, Pat Roach (who went on to play Bomber in Auf Wiedersehen Pet) and other leotard-clad legends.

More theatrical entertainment than sport, British pro wrestling has seen a revival in recent years.

It was three years ago that Wyllyotts last staged wrestling. and grappling fans can rest assured there will be plenty of fireworks at the Professional Wrestling Federation's (PWF) American Rumble Half-Term Wrestling Spectacular.

The all-action show features The UK Pitbulls, arguably wrestling's most sensational tag team, plus an over-the-top-rope, last-man-standing American Rumble.

The Pitbulls, comprise Mike (The Bulk) Walters, reputedly Europe's heaviest wrestler, and his partner Big Joe, who tip the scales at a combined weight of 58 stone.

The current Pitbull line-up is a reincarnation of the original team of brothers Mike and Dave Walters. The duo retired undefeated PWF tag team champions.

They were beaten just twice between 2003 and 2008 before Dave was forced to quit after suffering a crippling knee injury taking part in a strongman competition and Mike hung up his wrestling boots.

"But now The Bulk is back" declared Mike, "and with my partner, Big Joe, I'm on a mission to destroy every tag team in the country and recapture my title."

Dynamic duo: Tag team Mike (The Bulk) Walters and his partner Big Joe

Denzel builds towards awards

FENCES (12A, 139 mins)

Family: Denzel Washington and Viola Davis in Fences

NOMINATED for four Academy Awards including Best Picture, Fences is an assured film adaptation of August Wilson's Pulitzer Prize-winning play, directed for the screen by Denzel Washington.

The actor already has two golden statuettes on his mantelpiece for the films Glory and Training Day, and he is vying for a third Oscar for his showy performance here.

Such plaudits come as little surprise since Washington is well acquainted with the stage production.

He simmered with tightly coiled rage in a 2010 Broadway revival co-starring Viola Davis. Both won coveted Tony Awards for their incendiary portrayals of a couple struggling to hold together their marriage against a backdrop of economic uncertainty and bigotry in 1950s' Pittsburgh.

Reunited on the big screen, Washington and Davis rekindle molten chemistry and are able to suck us deeper into their characters' suffering with the benefit of lingering, tear-stained close-ups.

Fences remains unerringly faithful to its stage origins and feels rather static, unfolding predominantly within the rooms or backyard of a modest home where family members trade bruising verbal blows.

Strong-willed patriarch Troy Maxson (Washington) presides over this tug-of-war for supremacy.

He works as a rubbish collector alongside best friend Jim (Stephen Robertson), who loves to listen to Troy's anecdotes.

"You got more stories than the devil got sinners," quips Jim.

Troy toils in order to provide for his wife Rose (Davis) and their son Cory (Jovan Adepo).

The young man is a gifted athlete and is being scouted for college football.

Troy refuses to sign his son's permission slip because he believes the football leagues are rife with racial prejudice and he doesn't want his flesh and blood to fail, as he did playing baseball many years before.

This refusal to support his son's dream drives an insurmountable wedge between Troy and Cory.

"I'm the boss around here, I do the only saying what counts," barks the old man defiantly.

Meanwhile, the patriarch clashes with his other son, Lyons (Russell Hornsby), who only seems to materialise when he needs money.

Financial pressures tip Troy over the edge and his rage and frustration explode with devastating consequences.

Fences is a glittering showcase for the ensemble cast, led by the imperious Washington and Davis, who don't hold back in pivotal scenes.

The latter richly deserves her Oscar nomination and she'll almost certainly win for deftly capturing the steeliness of a mother hen, who has sacrificed everything for her brood.

"I gave 18 years of my life to stand in the same spot with you. Don't you think I ever wanted other things?" she rages.

Period detail is impressive and even though there is a palpable lack of cinematic dynamism to proceedings, there are plenty of dialogue-driven fireworks.

Released: February 10
RATING: 7.5/10

Are you in a band? Are you playing locally? Then let us know and we could be plugging your gigs in the Enfield Advertiser. Email your details and the venues you are appearing at to: editor@nlhnews.co.uk Make sure you let us know two weeks in advance.

New Show Room opens for sought after luxury Enfield homes

Lanes NEW HOMES

Campbell Place, a new and exclusive Shanly Homes development of luxury homes in the Oakwood area of Enfield, has now launched its third Phase of development. These stunning, art deco-inspired, four-bedroomed homes, have already caught the eye of buyers with Phases One and Two being fully reserved.

The nine contemporary, three-storey townhouses are sure to be snapped up in no time, due to their perfect location, exceptionally high standard finish, beautifully designed architecture and current Stamp Duty Paid* offer. Campbell Place has been carefully planned with family living in mind. All nine homes boast open plan kitchens and spacious living areas, car ports, a garden, terraces and/or patio areas, all within its leafy, tree-lined border.

The location of Campbell Place is perfect for transport links, with Oakwood and Southgate stations within walking distance, served by the Piccadilly Line and journey times into King's Cross St Pancras of just 30 minutes. Nearby mainline stations offer regular services to key stations, such as King's Cross and Moorgate plus Stevenage, Peterborough and Welwyn Garden City. Main roads such as A1, A406 and M25 are all easily accessible from Campbell Place. This stylish development also boasts a great choice of outstanding state and independent schools, all less than half a mile away, serving pupils aged 3 to 18, as well as plenty of shops, restaurants and bars close at hand.

For convenient, stylish, modern living, Campbell Place has it all. The impressive exterior design and high-spec finishes over three storeys, make these family homes the ultimate place to live in Enfield. Environmental considerations have not been overlooked, with energy-efficient appliances, fixtures and fittings all adding to the outstanding appeal of Campbell Place.

These exceptional homes range between £885,000 and £1,145,000, with a Stamp Duty Paid* offer available. Growing families looking to upsize to a modern, spacious home, with great transport links to the City and beyond, and fantastic schooling opportunities nearby, should get down to the brand new show home now. The new Show Home is open 7 days a week between 10am and 5pm. Call Lanes New Homes on 020 8370 3999 or email campbellplace@lanesnewhomes.co.uk to book your appointment to view.

Forrester&Co. Party Wall Surveyors

The Party Wall etc Act 1996 provides a framework for preventing and resolving disputes in relation to party walls, some boundary walls and excavations near neighbouring buildings and structures.

Building owners proposing to carry out work covered by the Act must give adjoining owners proper notice of their intentions in the way set down in the Act. Adjoining owners can agree or disagree with what is proposed. Where they disagree, the Act provides a mechanism for resolving disputes by appointed surveyors.

The requirements of the Act are separate from the need to obtain planning permission, building regulations approval and with leaseholders — often a licence to alter.

Need advice? Call us today on 020 8350 4141 for more information

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.
2. "Classified" Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.
To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.
3. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
 (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
 (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
 (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
4. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
5. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
6. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
7. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.
8. All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
9. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
10. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
11. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
12. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
13. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
 (1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.
 (2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 4% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.
14. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
15. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
16. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
17. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
18. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.
Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.
Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Capital Media Newspapers Ltd or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.
Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

KANE IS SPOT ON FOR SPURS

AFTER the two teams immediately below them – Arsenal and Liverpool – both dropped three points, Spurs consolidated second place in the Premier League thanks to Harry Kane's penalty at White Hart Lane on Saturday.

Mauricio Pochettino's men controlled the proceedings and probably should have won by more, but Middlesbrough proved a resilient side and they spurned a great chance to equalise in time added on when Marten de Roon mishit his shot.

"We dominated the game, played very good football, created a lot of chances and we're a little disappointed because you need to score more than one and not leave the game open," said the Spurs manager, who was celebrating his 100th league game in charge.

"At the end we suffered a little, we were a little nervous because in the Premier League the game is never closed if you don't have that gap.

"In the end we're happy with a good performance and happy because three points puts us in a good position in the table."

Spurs, having been held 0-0 at Sunderland in midweek, remain nine points behind leaders Chelsea and one ahead of Manchester City.

However, they have opened up a three-point advantage over Arsenal, who are now in fourth place, and they visit Liverpool, who are four points adrift of Spurs in fifth place, this Saturday.

Match-winner: Harry Kane scored the only goal of the game from the penalty spot

Tottenham had to wait until the second half until making the all-important breakthrough in the 58th minute against Middlesbrough after Heung-Min Son had been brought down in the box by Espinosa Bernardo.

Kane, who had missed his previous penalty in the 4-1 win at Southampton in December, made no mistake this time around.

"That one went miles up in the stands and I've been waiting for one to put that right. I was delighted to put it away," said the Spurs marksman, who had seen a 41st-minute effort ruled out by an offside flag after he had converted a low cross from Son.

Kane also praised the South Korean international, who had notched both Spurs' goals in the 2-1 win at Middlesbrough back in September.

"It was great play from Sonny," he said. "He has such great feet. He can go either way. He'd gone left, but on that occasion he chopped back on to his right foot, the defender stuck a leg out and he won the penalty for us.

"It was important, it won us the game and we'll take that. On another day we would have scored more, but that doesn't matter. We got the three points and we move on to the next one."

Midfield duo making a lasting impression

TEAMMATES hailed central midfield duo Mousa Dembele and Victor Wanyama after the victory over Middlesbrough – the pair's fifth successive game together in the key role.

Harry Kane described the two as "incredible" and Toby Alderweireld said they had "all the qualities".

Spurs, who are unbeaten in nine matches, have won three and drawn two of the five games in which Dembele and Wanyama have joined forces.

"They are both playing fantastic football," said Alderweireld. "They are strong, good on the ball. They know tactically where they have to go, when they have to clear or keep it.

"They have all the qualities, not one or two things, the lot, so that makes it difficult for opponents. "They help us a lot and make our life much easier."

Kane said: "They are incredible and they've been fantastic this season. They are so powerful, so strong and good on the ball as well, so when the ball drops to them they are able to get out of situations or pass forward and start attacks as well.

"They do it so well. They know the balance because they don't want to drop too deep and they know how to sweep in front [of the defence] and win second balls as well.

Productive partnership: Midfield men Mousa Dembele and Victor Wanyama

"They win the ball, start counter-attacks and get the ball rolling. They are very important players for us."

And manager Mauricio Pochettino added: "All the team played well [against Middlesbrough], but they are showing good commitment and understand the position perfectly.

"It's important to dominate that area because it's an area you build the game. We have two strong players, plus Harry Winks and Eric Dier as well."

Meanwhile, Ben Davies, who took over from injured left-back Danny Rose, looked ahead to this Saturday's trip to Liverpool: "We've seen they're not on the greatest run, but they're still a very, very good team and they're going to be dangerous to play against, especially at home.

"It's one we're looking forward to and we've got to go into it looking to get the points."

Borough hit back

HARINGEY Borough fought back from 1-0 down to win 2-1 at Dereham Town on Saturday and maintain seventh place in the Ryman League North Division.

After a tightly-fought first half had ended goalless, the home side broke the deadlock in the 55th minute when Ryan Crisp collected an inviting chip from Adam Smith and took a couple of touches before driving a low shot across Borough keeper Harry Palmer.

Ten minutes later the visitors were back on level terms thanks to an acrobatic overhead kick by Adrian Markus after the ball had been headed to him by skipper Dean Fenton.

The match appeared to be heading for a draw until, with just two minutes of the 90 left, Chris Benjamin shot home from close range following a cross which eluded a home defender.

Borough held out for their fourth win in five games even though Ralston Gabriel was sent off after 90 minutes.

Haringey Borough are at home to local rivals Cheshunt, who are one point above them with a game in hand, this Saturday (3pm).
